Checking Of Prize Claims

1. After reading out the minimum qualification, the Chairman asks reps to state average, or total of possible winners

2. The scorebook is then checked to ensure all league matches have been included, and cup and other matches have been excluded.

3. The book is then checked for arithmetical accuracy, and the figures at the end of the book cross checked to the match figures.

4. The Secretary reads out the confirmed winning figures, and records them.

5. Three people decide who has won the neatest scorebook prizes

6. Junior officials decide who has won the most promising Under 16 award, and inform him.

7. Although the names of the winners should appear in the press, it is the responsibility of the clubs reps to inform prize winners

8. We should have the Professionals Prize, Player of the Year and Hubert Pendlebury Award by the September Meeting.
